Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 19-33 are allowed.

Claims 19-23 are allowable. Claims 19-23 are allowable since the prior art of record does not disclose an information processing apparatus comprising a discrimination unit adapted to discriminate whether a first print mode, in which drawing positions are represented by coordinates relative to an origin that is defined at a specific position in a print sheet wherein a valid print area is not widened, is designated or a second print mode, in which drawing positions are represented by coordinates relative to an origin that is defined at an edge of a print sheet wherein the valid print area is widened, is designated in combination with other features and limitations of claim 19.

Claims 24-28 are allowable. Claims 24-28 are allowable since the prior art of record does not disclose an information processing method comprising a discrimination step of discriminating whether a first print mode, in which drawing positions are represented by coordinates relative to an origin that is defined at a specific position in a print sheet wherein a valid print area is not widened, is designated or a second print mode, in which drawing positions are represented by coordinates relative to an origin that is defined at an edge of a print sheet wherein the valid print area is widened, is designated in combination with other features and limitations of claim 24.

Claims 29-33 are allowable. Claims 29-33 are allowable since the prior art of record does not disclose a computer-executable program stored on a computer readable medium comprising discrimination code for discriminating whether a first print mode, in which drawing positions are represented by coordinates relative to an origin that is defined at a specific position in a print sheet wherein a valid print area is not widened, is designated or a
